

OzBrainTumour

the Australian internet
brain tumour support group

welcomes anyone
dealing with
brain tumour issues.

Established in 2000, we have hundreds of
members.

See our web site at
www.ozbraintumour.info

You will find there a link to our email
support group where there is a lively discussion of common issues.

You are welcome to join.

We are not affiliated with any organisation, we are not ourselves an organisation. You will not be asked to contribute anything, our discussion depends on whatever people care to write. Often very important thoughts are written at night.
Emails circulate to all, anyone can reply or open
a new topic. We are very proud of our shared spirit of trust, support and care. We learn from each other and benefit from mutual understanding of technical, family and personal issues.

OzBrainTumour

the Australian internet
brain tumour support group

welcomes anyone
dealing with
brain tumour issues.

Established in 2000, we have hundreds of
members.

See our web site at
www.ozbraintumour.info

You will find there a link to our email
support group where there is a lively
discussion of common issues.

You are welcome to join.

We are not affiliated with any organisation, we
are not ourselves an organisation. You will not be
asked to contribute anything, our discussion
depends on whatever people care to write. Often
very important thoughts are written at night.
Emails circulate to all, anyone can reply or open
a new topic. We are very proud of our shared
spirit of trust, support and care. We learn from
each other and benefit from mutual
understanding of technical, family and personal
issues.

OzBrainTumour

the Australian internet
brain tumour support group

welcomes anyone
dealing with
brain tumour issues.

Established in 2000, we have hundreds of
members.

See our web site at
www.ozbraintumour.info

You will find there a link to our email
support group where there is a lively
discussion of common issues.

You are welcome to join.

We are not affiliated with any organisation, we
are not ourselves an organisation. You will not be
asked to contribute anything, our discussion
depends on whatever people care to write. Often
very important thoughts are written at night.
Emails circulate to all, anyone can reply or open
a new topic. We are very proud of our shared
spirit of trust, support and care. We learn from
each other and benefit from mutual
understanding of technical, family and personal
issues.